

INTERNATIONAL GRIEF INSTITUTE

www.internationalgriefinstitute.com
360- 553-4200

MANAGING GRIEF IN THE WORKPLACE

3-Hour Workshop

Managing Grief in the Workplace is a 3-hour professional development workshop. It offers functional expertise and solid strategies designed to minimize disruption, maximize productivity, and create a sustainable culture of support in today's workplace when a member of the work family is impacted by loss.

IMPORTANCE

of proactive training

Being underprepared is expensive to employers—to the tune of up to $500 billion in lost productivity every year. Bereaved employees often describe how the toughest part of returning to work is the inability to focus, make profitable decisions, and talk openly about their loss. Coworkers often feel uncomfortable, unsure how to behave. Further, on average only 5% of employees use EAPs. Creating a culture of support will increase productivity, reduce turnover attract and attract talent.

VIRTUAL & ON-SITE WORKSHOP

Virtual class $295 per person | Also available on site

LEARN:

- 15 best practice and response strategies
- How to write organization grief policies & procedures
- How to prepare internal and external communication in time of employee grief
- How to conduct briefing & debriefing
- Strategies to improve employee safety and minimize risk
- Strategies to minimize disruption and maximize workflow
- IGI Managing Grief in the Workplace handbook included

Learn more about our programs at www.internationalgriefinstitute.com.
360- 553-4200 or learn@internationalgriefinstitute.com for a free consultation.